

The Palace at Weston Senior Living Breaks Ground

FROM L to R: Palace VP of Construction Alon Ben-David, Weston City Commissioner Byron Jaffe, Weston Mayor Daniel Stermer, Palace Owners Jacob & Helen Shaham, Weston City Commissioners Margaret Brown, Toby Feuer, and Thomas Kallman.

It's official! Ground has been officially broken for the long-awaited Palace at Weston!

The Palace Group's founders, Helen and Jacob Shaham, marked the occasion in grand fashion. City of Weston Mayor Daniel J. Stermer and Commissioners were on hand to make it "official" and donned hard hats for the ceremonial ground breaking.

"We've eagerly anticipated our return to the vibrant city of Weston and to answer the needs of families desiring to have their parents closer," said Helen Shaham, The Palace Group's President.

Opening in 2020, The Palace at Weston will have 320 residences of independent, assisted living and memory care. It will raise the bar on senior living and incorporate the finest in quality, luxury and care that are the trademarks of The Palace Group.
